Thanks for celebrating with us!

Please email up to five of your best digital images from tonight's event to: upstream4change@gmail.com

We hope you'll share what you've learned tonight with your friends, colleagues and family members, especially if you have teen or pre-teen children at home who might not be fully aware of the risks inherent in abusing alcohol and other drugs, including prescription medication. As parents, you can never talk to your children too much about the harm of alcohol misuse. We celebrate you as you take a stand and swim upstream
